Research Analysis

HB 2118 clarifies certain restrictions on wind turbine construction. The Corporation Commission is authorized to seek enforcement of setback requirements through its administrative court system.

The existing restriction that a wind energy facility not encroach upon or adversely impact the mission, training or operations of a military installation is extended to individual wind turbines. Documentation that the Department of Defense's objections have been resolved would have to be submitted to the Corporation Commission and the Oklahoma Aeronautics Commission. The measure also authorizes the Oklahoma Aeronautics Commission to promulgate rules regarding siting near military installations and mitigation of potential related harm. The owner of a wind energy facility also would be required to submit to the Corporation Commission and the Aeronautics Commission copies of all FAA forms for individual wind turbines to be constructed.
